FRENCH COLD TO ATTITUDE OF MEETING

Failure of Experts to Agree Displeasing to French.

HERRIOTT REPORTS

Failure to Reach Agreement on Dawes' Plan for German Loans Alters the Program.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, July 29.—The French parliament today received in absolute silence with marked frigidity Premier Herriot's report on the progress of the inter-allied conference at London in which the head of the government described the failure of the conference to agree with the British-American banking interests on the question of security for the Dawes' plan of loans to Germany.

LONDON, July 29.—Inter-allied conference circles credited American intervention at the experts' meeting yesterday afternoon with having saved the conference from what threatened to develop into a crisis that possibly would have wrecked the parleys and seriously delayed the application of the Dawes plan to Europe's economic ills.

At the meeting of the experts prior to the plenary session, the debate between the French and British representatives on the issues which has been deadlocked a week had reached a very dangerous stage when Colonel James A. Logan, American official observer, offered compromise suggestions which lessened the tension.

As soon as he had finished his statement, which covered important points regarding American participation in the working of the Dawes plan, the French representative announced he believed that within 24 hours the French delegation could submit a formula which they considered would satisfy both the British experts and the Anglo-American bankers in its provisions for security for the international loan which Germany must float before the Dawes plan can be made effective.

Inability to reach a settlement yesterday disrupted the program and the invitation which it generally had been expected would be dispatched to Berlin last night requesting the attendance of German representatives has been delayed indefinitely.

HUNT FOR STOLEN CHILD CONTINUES

Nurse is Believed to Have Kidnapped Little Girl—Is Sought by Police

By Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, July 29.—No trace has been found here of Dorothy Blanchard, age 5 years, who is believed to have been kidnapped. Search for Mrs. Phoebe Wood, nurse, charged in a police court warrant with kidnaping the child, has spread to Detroit and Ann Arbor where the missing woman has relatives. The police believe she may have gone there with the child which has been missing since Saturday. Descriptive circulars are being prepared today of the child and her nurse in belief that a national search will likely be necessary to restore the child to its mother.

Shaver Says Klan Is To Be Campaign Issue

NEW YORK, July 29.—Clem L. Shaver, chairman of the democratic national committee, in his first formal interview with newspaper men at the headquarters of John W. Davis, the democratic presidential nominee, said yesterday he believed the Ku Klux Klan will be an issue during the campaign in "spots, determined by local conditions." He added that whether the national campaign would take connizance of the question was a problem for the nominee himself to decide.

Chairman Shaver also announced that candidate Davis would "sometime during the campaign certainly go west" and that today he would find a location here for the opening of eastern campaign headquarters. Other headquarters, he said, would be opened in Chicago and regional offices in other places.

Blarney Stone Again Is Mecca For Visitors

Associated Press.

BLARNEY, Ireland, July 29—Scores of Americans are now being dangled daily by the heels over the parpet of the castle to kiss the Blarney stone.

Tourist traffic is again on an organized basis for the first time since the opening of the great war, and southern Ireland is much cheered by the arrival of visitors on every ship from America.

Early in June steamers in the trans-Atlantic passenger traffic resumed stops at Queenstown, which is no longer Queenstown. That name was given to it after a visit of Queen Victoria, and with the revival of Irish independence the old Gaelic name of Cobh has been resumed by the Irish.

Historic Blarney Castle suffered no damage in the struggles for Irish independence which followed the close of the great war.

SENATOR LODGE IS REPORTED BETTER

Veteran Legislator Rallies From Operation—Another Operation Likely.

BOSTON, July 29.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, who successfully underwent an operation for a bladder ailment at the Charlesgate hospital passed a comfortable day, attending physicians reported last night. His condition was said to be excellent with no alarming developments. A bulletin embodying these facts was issued early in the evening. Unless an unexpected turn for the worse occurred, it was said that no further bulletins would be issued in the night.

Senator Lodge's temperature and pulse are normal and he is cheerful. There will be a second operation, however, for the removal of the bladder obstruction, it was stated, the date to be determined in two or three days.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 29.—Physicians attending Senator Lodge who is ill of bladder trouble said today that his condition continues satisfactory.

Maruading Continues In West End Section

Maruading and attempted burglaries are continuing in the West End, but with less frequency and damage. Mrs. James Berkley reports that an attempt was made to break into her house Friday night, but the man fled after he had nearly detached the screen from the window. Last night there were indications of a marauder around houses in that neighborhood though no actual attempts at entry were made.

Residents of that section of town and others where houses have been broken in live in a constant state of terror, never knowing whose house will be next victimized.

"Cimex Lectularius," Cognomen of Bed Bug

By Associated Press.

IOWA CITY, Iowa, July 29.—The bed bug, variously and many times profanely named, has only within the past year, after a 166-year search, received a monicker that will satisfy sticklers for scientific exactness, according to Dr. C. W. Stiles, assistant surgeon general of the United States Public Health service, who is a summer session lecturer at the University of Iowa. Hereafter on the roster of science the bed bug will be known as "Cimex lectularius."

As secretary of the International Commission on Zoological Nomenclature, Dr. Stiles took a prominent part in the baptismal rites.

TENNESSEE ELECTS GOVERNOR IN FALL

Primary In Sister State for Both Parties to be Held Next Month.

By Associated Press.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 29.—Qualified voters of Tennessee will on August 7 cast their ballots for the candidates of their choice in two state primaries, a judicial election and local primaries in the various counties.

Both Democrats and Republicans will stage primary elections for state officers. Two members of the Supreme Court, Judge W. L. Cook, of Charlotte and Judge A. W. Chambliss of Chattanooga and two Court of Appeals justices, Judge Arthur Crownover, of Winchester and Judge R. A. Davis, of Athens, all appointed to office due to vacancies during the present administration of Governor Peay, are to be voted upon.

There is no opposition in the court races.

Governor Austin Peay, rounding out the last months of his first administration, is a candidate for re-nomination, seeking a return to the gubernatorial chair on his program of administration reforms, tax equalization and economy of administration. He is opposed on the Democratic ticket by Judge John R. Neal, of Knoxville, former law professor at the University of Tennessee.

Five candidates for the governorship on the Republican ticket were qualified with Joe Broson, of Chattanooga, chairman of the State Republican committee. They are: P. H. Thach, of Hamilton County; T. F. Peck, of Monroe County, formerly commissioner of agriculture; former Governor A. A. Taylor, Carter County; Walter White, of Rhea County and W. N. Beasley of Shelby County.

A heated campaign has been under way for weeks for the seat in the United States Senate now held by Senator John K. Shields, of Knoxville, Senator Shields, a candidate to succeed himself on the Democratic side, being one of three Democrats seeking the honor. The other candidates qualified are Judge Nathan L. Bachman, of Chattanooga and Gen. L. D. Tyson, of Knoxville. Judge Bart Lindsay, of Knoxville, is a leading Republican in the Senatorial race.

General Harvey H. Hannah, of Oliver Springs, chairman of the Tennessee Railroad and Public Utilities Commission, a candidate to succeed himself as a member of the commission has encountered opposition in the qualifying of Sam E. Hill, of Knoxville, both Democrats.

Congressmen are to be selected in the prescribed number of districts in the primaries.

WHEAT GROWERS IN CANADA ORGANIZED

Merger Effected at Winnipeg Which Will Market the Entire Wheat Crop.

Associated Press.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 29.—A wheat pool merger which contemplates the marketing of the entire wheat crop of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta by one cooperative organization, is being planned. The greater part of the wheat crop of these provinces has, in the past been marketed by separate provincial pools.

Whether the merger will be effected in time to market this year's crop is uncertain, but those behind the movement declare they will begin the wholesale co-operative marketing operations at least by next year.

"Canada has been a pioneer in advancing the interests of its farmers by the adoption of a co-operative marketing system," an official statement declared. "The co-operative movement in the nation is more than 20 years old. Practically every product of Canadian farms is now marketed co-operatively. The system has enabled the farmers to get the highest prices at a minimum cost of marketing."

Evangelistic Meetings at Avenue Tent

Considerable speculation has been made as to the purpose of the big tent which was pitched yesterday on the vacant lot adjoining the Singer building on Cumberland avenue. Over either side of the entrance American flags have been placed and seats to accomodate a large crowd are available inside.

It was learned this morning that a series of evangelistic meetings will be conducted there by Parson Jackson of Barbourville. The meetings will be interdenominational in character, it is understood.

SOME BULL

Gores Owner While Being Groomed For County Fair

By Associated Press.

HARRODSBURG, July 29.—A Jersey bull, being groomed for the county fair, gored Stephen Sampson while Sampson was adjusting the chain preparatory to leading the animal to water. The same bull gored another man six weeks ago. The owner is said to have withdrawn the animal from the fair exhibit to have it dehorned. Sixteen stitches were taken in the victim's stomach.

ALLEGED 'SHINER RELEASED ON BOND

One Participant In West End Shooting Rounded Up—Other is at Large

John Mullinax, brought into town yesterday by Jim Norvell, made bond for $1,000 before Magistrate Charles G. Smyth and waived preliminary examination. His trial, on charges of unlawfully having in his possession an illicit still and maliciously shooting and wounding an officer, is set for the November term of criminal court.

Officers have been looking for Mullinax since the shooting near Shamrock last week in which he is said to have wounded Tom Cinnamon who was present when Mullinax and another man brought a still to the road where Cinnamon was investigating a case of marauding. His confederate escaped to the hills and has not yet been taken by officers.

Reports that Tom Cinnamon had quit the sheriff's force previous to the shooting and was subsequently added to the constabulary force were unfounded. The deputy's bond had expired, it is understood, but has since been renewed.

PARK COMMITTEE INSPECTING SITES

Knoxville Men to Meet Secretary Work at Asheville—Local Plans Made

By Associated Press.

CLAYTON, Ga., July 29.—Probability that the territory of Georgia, Tennessee, and North and South Carolina would be selected as the site for the proposed national park in the southeast was voiced here today by Secretary of the Interior Hubert Work and Congressman H. W. Temple, of Pennsylvania, who are heading a government commission investigating the feasibility of such a project.

Their comment was made as the party began its journey to Highlands, N.C., through Dillard and the Nantila reservation on its one week tour of the proposed site, consisting of six thousand square miles along the Appalachian mountain range.

It was announced in Knoxville today that a committee had been appointed to go to Asheville to meet Dr. Work and the national park committee and that the Knoxvillians would probably leave this afternoon by motor for Asheville.

Tentative plans have been made here for the local committee, or a part of it, to go to Knoxville when Dr. Work and his associates arrive there to interview them in regard to the establishment of a park at Cumberland Gap. Trips will then be arranged, to suit the convenience of the national committee for visiting the Pinnacle and other natural attractions in the vicinity.

SAYS BANK AIDS SMALL FARMERS

Interest Rates of Banking Institutions Boon to Agriculturalists Here.

Associated Press.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 28.—"Thousands of small farmers in the states of Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, and Tennessee have been able to buy farms through loans made by the Federal Land Bank of Louisville," James R. Davis, president, declares. He was unable to say how many in each state.

The farmers are not making much progress, he said, "while the prices of farm products are low, compared to the cost of production, yet the farmers are working ahead in the hopes that conditions will improve."

"Offhand," Mr. Davis continued, "establishment of the bank has had a tendency to decrease the number of farmers who mortgage their crops in advance to buy supplies. With improved facilities, he is trying to improve farm life and make it more desirable."

"Taken as a whole," the president said, "the conditions created by the bank are enabling farm children to acquire better educations. Consolidation of schools in rural districts is an indication that school facilities have been improved.

"The Federal Land Banks have proven a great balance wheel for the last few years and agricultural depression which has existed for some time would have been far more reaching had it not been for the operation of these banks," Mr. Davis said in generalizing.

"The Federal Land Bank of Louisville has loans in force in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, and Tennessee, totalling $81,000,000. These loans, being on long term with low rate of interest have played their part in reducing the actual cost of farm operations in this section.

"I would estimate that the Federal Land Bank of Louisville has saved the 25,000 farmers who have loans with it around a million dollars annually. This This is estimated from the difference in interest rates and the fact that the bank loans on the amortization plan which eliminates renewals with renewed costs.

"The loans have also been of value to local banks and financial institutions, inasmuch as they have brought money into their respective communities by which the farmers can better improve farming and increase production, thus helping agricultural conditions."

The bank loans at 5½ per cent, payable over a period of 31 years. Resources of the bank April 15 were $90,000,000; capital stock $4,200,000, and reserve and undivided profits $800,000, Mr. Davis said.

MAKING AERIAL MAP OF STATE

"Pickwick Papers" of Dickens Brings $7,000

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July 29.—The record price of $7,000 was paid at an auction recently for the first issue of the first edition of "Pickwick," in the original numbers and wrappers, brought out in 1836-7. There was keen competition from American collectors, but the copy was secured by a Londoner.

After keen bidding against American buyers, another Englishman secured a first edition copy of Grays Elegy printed in 1751, for $7,750. The copy contains six pages and was considered by the original collector to be incomparable.

Handkerchiefs, Silk Hose For Women Voters

Enfranchisement of women has given candidates new problems. In the old days, the good will of a voter could frequently be won by a cigar or, if the candidate could afford it, something with even a greater kick. Advent of women into the circle of voters, however, requires new tactics in pre-election days. This problem seems to have been adequately met by a potential justice of the peace in a neigboring state.

This office-seeker, according to reports, is distributing free gifts in the way of nice handkerchiefs and allegedly silk hose to the women voters of his district. His last race for the office which, by the way, was successful, was preceded by gifts of fancy handkerchiefs to fair attendants of the polls. The cost of office-seeking having advanced, however, the candidate deemed it wise to increase the price of good-will, hence the addition of hosiery to the gifts.

SEEK TO ENJOIN BURLEY COMPANY

Suit Filed in Knoxville to Restrain Operations of Association In Tennessee.

KNOXVILLE, July 29.—State of Tennessee through Frank M. Thompson, attorney general, yesterday filed suit in Knox chancery court to stop the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association from operating in Tennessee. Chancellor Charles Hayes Brown issued a temporary injunction restraining agents of the association from further activities, pending a hearing on the bill.

The state's bill charged that the Burley Tobacco Growers' association "constitutes an unlawful trust and combination in restraint of trade, violative of the provisions of Chapter 140 of the Acts of 1903." It was set forth in the bill that the association, better known as the "tobacco pool," is a Kentucky corporation with its chief offices at Lexington, Ky.

The association or "pool" was described as a powerful trust whose octopus like tentacles are now reaching into Tennessee in an effort to destroy the free tobacco market here, and stifle a rapidly growing competition which has alarmed the burley interests in Kentucky. The state's bill was exhaustive, comprising 44 type written pages.

Court Defines "Firstclass"

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, July 21.—To advertise an article as of "prime quality" does not really mean that it must be first-class, says the German court of commerce at Bamberg. All that is necessary is that the article shall be better than the average. If a merchant wants to indicate that something is really firstclass, he should use the double superlative "prima-prima," or the Italian "primissima." Only if he uses either of these superlatives can be sued if the article is not all that is claimed for it.

LEOPOLD, LOEB LISTEN CALMLY TO CONFESSION

Unprintable Testimony Today In Case of Young Slayers

WOMEN LISTENERS

Court Recessed at Noon With Reading of Testimony Not Concluded—Boys Grin at Reading.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 29.—Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb listened with little change of expression today while their confessions of the kidnaping and murder of Robert Franks was read before the court. Both grinned when the paragraph was read quoting Leopold as using profanity when Loeb's glasses were discovered.

Several times during today's session the reading of the testimony was done in such a low voice that only the stenographers were able to understand. The statements were unfit to print, Judge Caverly informed. Both youths exchanged smiling confidences at this point.

The silent testimony at one time required fifteen minutes. It apparently related a letter Leopold had written Loeb and a lengthy interrogation of facts therein. The court took a recess at noon with the reading of the confessions only partly finished. Women predominated in the audience, as usual, today.

The battle of the alienists is not expected to start for several days. Clarence S. Darrow, chief counsel for the defense, said that after the state rested he would ask an adjournment until the following day. He said he would introduce not more than three or four witnesses and that he thought four days would suffice for presentation of his testimony, the period also allowing for cross-examination.

Mr. Darrow characterized as "immaterial" the report by two of the defense experts which got into the possession of morning newspapers here. He said these reports were merely on the physical characteristics of his clients, that they expressed no conclusions, and were intended merely for the information of the real mental experts on his staff. He indicated that a rigid investigation would be made of the circumstances which brought these reports into public circulation.

Mr. Crowe explained that none of his alienists had prepared written reports, and that the testimony they would give would be verbal, direct from the witness stand.

He said:

"There is no need for long written reports when what they will have to say can be summarized in three words."

Cut in Opera Salaries Urged

By Associated Press.

DRESDEN, July 29.—A movement has been started in Germany to limit the salaries of opera stars and stage celebrities generally. Vigorous protests here and elsewhere have been filed against the high price of theatre sets which, the managers contend, have been made necessary because of the large salaries demanded by artists before they will appear.

BOND ISSUE DEFEAT WILL BRING HIGHER TAXES

There is one phase of the bond issue for $75,000,000 which has not beeen emphasized as it should be, which should be clearly understood by every voter.

Under the law which has been and is now in force, and will continue to be in force if the bond issue is defeated, every cent of tax collected on gasoline and every dollar collected for motor license must be used for the maintenance or construction of roads.

The last legislature imposed a tax of three cents a gallon on gasoline. There is no probability, we do not believe there is a possibility, of this being reduced, nor do we believe that there is a possibility, of a reduction in the fees for motor licenses.

Under the bond bill, which has been declared constitutional by the court of appeals, the aggregate of the tax on gasoline, the fees for the motor licenses and 3.45 cents from the general fund may be used, and will be used, for the payment of interest and the retirement of the $75,000,000 of bonds authorized under that bill.

Under the provisions of that bill $50,000,000, or two thirds of the bonds, will be used for the construction of roads, and the surplus of revenues from those sources over and above the requirements of interest and sinking fund for the maintenance of the roads.

It can be demonstrated beyond all preadventure of doubt that the receipts from these three sources will be ample to pay the interest, provide for the sinking fund and furnish ample funds for the maintenance of the roads.

One-third of the $75,000,000 will be used for other purposes than good roads, i. e., for the payment of the state debt; for the construction of new buildings and the procuring of new equipment for the University of Kentucky; for the rehabilitation of the penal, corrective and eleemosynary institutions; for the extension of the educational system of the state, including the erection of primary and high school buildings; for buildings and equipment for the normal schools; for the extension of the colored normal and industrial institute at Frankfort, and for the erection of a similar institute in the southwestern part of the state; for a geographic and topographic survey of the state; for the inauguration of a warfare against tuberculosis; for new buildings at the institute for the blind and the institute for the deaf.

This $25,000,000 will be paid for out of the revenues furnished by the gasoline tax, the license fees for motor cars and the 3.45 cents from the general fund. There will not be required a dollar of additional taxes to be placed on real estate for any of those purposes specified in the bond bill.

If, however, the bond bill fails to be approved the aggregate of revenues which come from the tax on gasoline and licenses on motor cars will be devoted exclusively to the maintenance and construction of good roads, and it will be therefore imperatively necessary for the state to levy additional taxes to accomplish the objects specified in the bond bill, or else to permit the present shameful conditions to continue to exist.

We have no doubt that the people of Kentucky will quickly, demand that the conditions that now exist in the Eastern Kentucky Hospital for the Insane, the schools of reform and the penitentiary at Frankfort, shall be improved. Nor have we doubt that they will demand that the University of Kentucky be given sufficient money to furnish the opportunity to the youth of Kentucky to obtain an education.

Under the bond issue these objects can be secured without an increase in taxation. If the bond issue is defeated and all the revenues from the tax on gasoline and motor licenses be devoted to the maintenance and construction of good roads, it will be necessary to increase the taxes on real estate.

We urge all our readers to study the present law and the bill authorizing the bond issue, assure themselves as to the accuracy of the statements we make, and give full consideration to the alternatives. If the bond issue is approved by the people of the state the objects provided for in it will be obtained without an increase in taxes. If it be defeated it will be essential for the state to increase the direct taxation on real estate.—Lexington Herald.

HOLLAND TO ADOPT PROTECTIVE TARIFF POLICY

Holland, for many years known as a Free-Trade country, has determined to abandon that policy and adopt one of Tariff Protection. The draft of the bill intended to carry the change into effect has already been made public, although it is of course subject to modification. The existing Tariff is one for the raising of revenue, and is anything but simple. The new Tariff bill is calculated not only to build up and maintain domestic industry through adequate Tariff Protection, but it is much simpler in its provisions, especially with regard to classifications.

Thus one by one, all of the nations of earth are turning to Tariff Protection. In view of this fact, it is incredible that a great American party should appeal to the voters of the country to return to Free-Trade, a policy which has always brought ruin in its wake, and a policy which every civilized country is abandoning. The Democratic Party claims to be "progressive," but its progress is like that of the crawfish—backward.

Germans Cut Payroll By Many Dismissals

By Associated Press.

BERLIN, July —Twenty-five per cent of the federal employes of Germany have been "laid off" since April 1, in accordance with the economy program embarked upon by the government. Previous to that date the civil service payroll showed 825,955 officials, 60,747 office employes and 705,512 manual workers. Of this number 134,507 official, 30,217 office employes and 232,134 workers have been dismissed. Besides 1,114 occasional employes working on commission were taken off the payroll.

The government estimates that this reduction means an annual saving of 15 percent of the federal budget. The people hardest hit by the retrenchment order were married women. Practically all married women whose husbands have jobs were given notice of termination of employment.

INCREASE IN RESOURCES OF STATE BANKS

Banking Institutions of State Have Gain of $3,000,000.

MEANS MORE MONEY

Building Loan Associations Established at Pineville, Harlan, Corbin and Other Towns.

Associated Press.

FRANKFORT, Ky., July 29. The total resources in the 474 banks, trust companies and combined banks and trust companies in Kentucky have increased about three million dollars within the last twelve months, H. H. Shanks of the state banking commission declared today. He filed a consolidated statement as of June 30, 1924, the end of the last fiscal year, with Gov. Fields.

The statement showed the resources total $290,391,021.52.

"There are $150,000,000 more in resources than in 1912," he said," and forty million dollars more than double within the last twelve years.

This is due to the fact that there is more money in circulation. Products bring more money. The natural development of business has shown a consistent and steady growth. The increased valuation of farms and other products also have brought about the increased resources."

Since December 31, 1922, the total resources of building and loan associations of Kentucky have increased nine million dollars, he said.

"Within the last fiscal year, this nine million dollar increase represents a difference in the total resources of 16 and one-half million dollars at the date of the last call report, and 55 million dollars resources at present call," he said.

For the first time in the history of the state banking commission, he said, the time and saving deposits are more than the demand deposits.

The time and saving deposits total $100,115,720.60 while the demand deposits total 96,887,568.57.

From the fiscal period, June 30, 1923 to June 30, 1924, there were six banks chartered, he added: The Peoples State Bank, at Campbellsville; Bankers Trust Company, Louisville; Bank of Royalton, Royalton; Letcher State Bank, Whitesburg; Commercial Deposit Bank, Winchester; and the Farmers Bank and Trust Company, at St. Mathews.

The following seven banks in that period ceased their corporate existence:

Bowling Green, Liberty Trust Company, dissolved; Casey Creek, Farmers' Bank, dissolved; Hardyville, Deposit Bank, closed by board of directors; Paducah, Ohio Valley Trust Co., closed by directors; Glendale, Glendale Banking Company, closed; Fountain Run, Bank of Fountain Run, closed by board of directors; Tobi, Ky, Farmers & Merchants Bank, bank and records destroyed by fire.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

(By Harry B. Hunt)

WASHINGTON, July 29. Here's a problem for our experts on the advance of civilization:

Washington capital city of "the most advanced nation on earth," the seat of America's law-making power, center of educational and social culture, having in its population a higher percentage of 'college' folk and a lower percentage of illiteracy than any similarly large city, is close to the top of the list in per capita average of arrests made for violation of law!

Figures just compiled for the year ending July 1 show that, on an average one inhabitant out of six was arrested for some form or other of lawlessness during the last 12 months.

That, it must be admitted, isn't a very good record. Certainly it is not a good record for the city whose chief business is the making and administering of laws for the rest of the nation.

It represents an average of almost one arrest per family, on the basis of five persons to a family.

With such an example on the part of the capital city, which might be expected to set the pace in the observance of law and recognition of the responsibilities of citizenship, how can the population of less "advanced" cities, where laws and patriotism and civic duty are not so constantly stressed be expected to regard seriously the obligations to walk punctiliously within the law?"

Analysis of the statistics of these arrests show that automobiles and booze are at the root of the increase.

Total arrests for violation of the liquor laws were 63,021. For disregard of automobile laws, 47,025 arrests were made, 9870 being for speeding, and 23,228 for traffic "violations."

Major Dan Sullivan, superintendent of police, who in connection with prohibition, describes Washington as a "hip pocket town," explains the statistics by saying that Washington isn't growing more lawless but that the police are more vigilant.

So much for Washington's failure to live up to the laws she has. Now for a law she'd like to have but hasn't.

Much more than additional "prohibitive" laws saying what must not be done, Washington would like a "permissive" law, granting authority for the development of the water power now running to waste in the Potomac river at Great Falls, 15 miles above the capital.

Such a law, which is recommended by Secretary of Commerce Hoover, would make available 180,000 horsepower of energy, save some hundreds of thousands of tons of coal annually, relieve congestion in freight transportation, and otherwise make Washington a better capital to live in.

Washington would hail this law with joy, and doubtless would give bond that it wouldn't result in a single additional arrest, unless a few power company capitalists should have to be restrained from committing violence.

RUSSIAN EXILES SEEK IMMIGRATION

Refugees In Philippines Wish to Leave the Islands to Come to the United States.

Associated Press.

MANILA, July 29. A survey of the condition of the 250 Russian refugees who arrived here nearly a year and a half ago from Vladivostok is to be made by the Philippine health department, the bureau of customs and a physician of the United States quarantine service to determine whether they are qualified to enter the United States. There appears to be little likelihood of the refugees being allowed to land in the United States for many months to come, but Admiral Stark, who led the colony from Vladivostok, expresses the hope that arrangements for admission of most of the Russians may be made.

About a year ago some 600 of the 850 who came here in February 1923, were sent to San Francisco on the army transport Merritt and reports from them about favorable conditions in the United States have caused their friends and relatives remaining here to renew their efforts to reach America.

The colony of some 70,000 headed by Admiral Stark, adherent of the old monarchial regime, was forced to leave Vladivostok by the soviets. They took 16 small ships and set out late in 1922 to look for a country in which to land. Several thousand were dropped in Korea, and other thousands were left in China, a number of ships being sold en route to obtain subsistence. When they reached the Philippines the personnel had dwindled to 850 and the number of ships to eleven. During the last year and a half five more of the ships have been sold, leaving six now at the Olongapo naval station.

Being a picture of health does no good if it is hand-painted.

NOTRE DAME COACH GETS BIG SALARY

Rockne Retained at Salary of $10,000 Per Year.

CONTRACT 10 YEARS

Entered University 15 Years Ago As Working Student —Now Foremost Coach In the Country.

Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 29.—When Knute K. Rockne entered the University of Notre Dame 15 years ago as a poor working student, doing all kinds of odd jobs to pay for his tuition and board, he little dreamed that he would step into a position that was to pay him $100,000 in ten years as coach of that famous eleven. Rockne is to do just that, when his new contract becomes effective in 1925.

Rockne, by signing a contract to remain at Notre Dame for the next ten years at an annual salary reported to be $10,000 a year, becomes one of the highest paid teachers of football in America. Of the terms of his salary Rockne himself has nothing to say, but those close to him declare he was offered $10,000 a year last fall to become head football coach at the University of Iowa, succeeding Howard Jones, and that Notre Dame would not part with him.

From a "handy boy" determined to obtain an education, Rockne's career is a vivid story of a plucky fight against odds. The man who today is acknowledged as one of the foremost coaches in the country did not even know the principles of football when he entered Notre Dame in 1909. But under the direction of Jesse Harper, the Notre Dame coach, he began to learn quickly. He did what he was told. He practiced and trained hard and within three years was elected captain of the team that was hailed throughout the country as one of the greatest exponents of the forward pass ever developed.

When Rockne enrolled at Notre Dame he was without funds and no work was too menial for him to earn a few dollars. Gradually he became so proficient in chemistry that during his last year in school he acted as an assistant professor. It was in this same year that his name became famous in football, when Notre Dame met the Army for the first time and triumphed, 35 to 13. It was Rockne, on the receiving end of the forward passes hurled by Gus Dorais, that swept the cadets off their feet.

After graduation, Coach Harper asked to retain Rockne as a football assistant. The dean of the chemistry department made a similar request. Rockne was wanted in two places. The officials arranged his work so he could work both jobs. A year later Harper retired to his western ranch and Rockne stepped into his shoes holding the position as director of athletics, head football coach and track coach ever since.

Notre Dame's rise to athletic power under Rockne's direction has been swift. The football elevens always are contenders for national honors. Rockne, a national figure in American athletics, is of the "new school" in football. His system has brought about many innovations, such as the shift plays. These are designed to conceal the point of attack and to add force to the thrust. Weight is invariably sacrificed for speed and close up interference has made Notre Dame teams famous.

Rockne refers to Notre Dame as "my school" and declares he never will leave, as long as they wish to retain him.

BOOSTERS WIN IN SPECTACULAR GAME

Play Lynch Again at East End Park Today—Score Yesterday Was 5-4.

A spectacular play was made at the East End ball park yesterday when Bingham of the Middlesboro Boosters knocked theball over the right field fence which resulted in a home run in the eighth inning with three men on bases. This is the fourth time a ball has ever been knocked over the fence at the local althletic field and that yesterday was a record breaker in the matter of distance.

Middlesboro won the game against Lynch, the score being 5-4. The game was perhaps the best that has been played at the park this year and the Boosters made an excellent showing in the game against Lynch, conceded to be the hardest rival in this section.

The Lynch boys are not satisfied, however, and were scheduled to meet the Boosters again on the field at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon. Indications were that a large crowd would witness the game.

Ship Owners Protest New Mariner Measure

By Associated Press.

STOCKHOLM, July [illegible] —Passage by the United States congress of a bid making owners of vessels liable to a fine of $1,000 in the case of alien seamen deserting their ships in American waters, has brought a protest from Daniel Brostroem, former Swedish minister of marine, who declared that it was beyond the power of shop owners to prevent such desertions.

Enforcement of the measure, Mr. Brostroem said, would prove ruinous, especially in the case of Swedish vessels, which already were losing money in the American trade because of the many restrictions under which they were placed.

Disturbers Disposed of Quietly In Court

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July [illegible] —In the central hall of the Law Courts there are staircases which wind round large pillars leading to corridors and galleries in which are various courtleries in which are various court rooms. Few people climbing them are aware that the huge pillars also contain specially built secret stairways for bringing down people who make themselves objectionable in court. They have been used on various occasions.

Once when a man flourished a revolver in court reinforcements were hurried up by the spiral stairway and the man brought down in the same way. On other occasions disturbers who chained themselves to the gallery have been brought down quietly by the secret way.

FOUNTAINS
(Christian Science Monitor)

Hydrants are efficient
To the turning of a faucet
Conforming in their flow
Nothing wasted, fast or slow.

Fountains are extravagant
And run without control
Heedless of consumption
They overbrim the bowl.

Yet streams of spontaneity
Are dearer, I confess,
Than spigots of economy
Or waters of duress.

Careless of their riches
The fountains have a care
For creatures never baffled
By a stopple there.

Moon or star they babble—
Silver gleam and spark—
Greetings to the timid things
Who visit in the dark.

Mob Scenes Supreme In "The Huming Bird"

The first director to have two super-features on Broadway simultaneously, Sidney Olcott has carved for himself another niche in the Hall of Fame by his new Paramount production of "The Humming Bird," adapted from Maude Fulton's famous stage success of the same name and starring Gloria Swanson.

Sidney Olcott, actor, adventurer, man of the world, director, has won fame for his handling of mob scenes. It has been said of him that he obtains more realistic effects than any other man now directing photoplays. This is due undoubtedly to the manner in which he treats members of a film mob as individuals, each of whom is entitled to know the full story of the production. In rehearsing a mob scene, Mr. Olcott not only tells the "extra" actors what they are to do and how, but, most important of all, why.

"The Humming Bird" which will be shown at the Manring Theatre on Thursday offers the director several big opportunities to display this rare ability for true mob direction and should again place him on the top of the list with one of the year's best productions, just as did "Little Old New York" and "The Green Goddess" in the past season.

Edward Burns is Miss Swanson's leading man.

Earl Hawk Stock Co. Coming Here Monday

The Earl Hawk stock company which played here one week last year will be here for a week's engagement beginning next Monday, according to the advance agent who was in town today.

Those who attended the performances of the show last year will remember that all were good, clean dramas or comedy-dramas. Present plans are to have the tent on the vacant lot opposite the Christian church. The opening play will be "When Dreams Come True."
